Michael
Can you run me the latest pre reg list and send it along? Want to dangle it in front of Microsoft.

Around 115 (attached). Our much expanded database is nearly done and we have identified a large number of additional IT people around Hartford we can invite this morning if wished. Should we send? Would 150 signups typically yield about 100 showups or what ratio have you typically found from past events?

Attached is the pre-registration list as of this morning. Note that I put them all in one tab as some recipients were just looking at the first tab which was rarely their city and dismissing it as not in their city.

btw since we are not equipped to send you registrant lists every few days (and you don't want to reveal the whole list to possible exhibitors anyway) send the attached to any exhibitors asking for example registrants. Let them know the attached example is first day registrants across all the Florida events as examples for them to gauge the quality.
